

Science & Engineering Internships in Hannover and Clausthal, Germany

Welcome

Welcome to Clausthal University of Technology and Leibniz University Hannover, Germany's most highly regarded universities of science and technology (TU9*)! We kindly invite you to participate in our three-months summer 'Science & Engineering Internship Program'.

About the cities

Hannover, capital of the federal state of Lower Saxony, is not only home to the world famous CeBIT, but also headquarter of world known companies such as VW, Continental, MTU, Sennheiser or Bahlsen. It is a modern, green and lively city in the middle of Europe.

Clausthal-Zellerfeld, a picturesque university town, has a long and distinguished history of mining and engineering research. It is located in the Harz Mountains, surrounded by UNESCO World Heritage 'Upper Harz Water Management System'.

Application

Students have the option to apply at one of the universities' institutes. There are roughly 20 placements available for this program.

Participating institutes will publish project offers on the program website.
